 What is Accreditation: Every 3-6 years, Cochise SDA Christian School is evaluated by members of the Adventist education accreditation team and other state recognized accrediting organizations. Accreditation is an external, objective evaluation of school quality and student achievement. It ensures that our school is meeting high quality standards in many areas including instruction, curriculum, student achievement, leadership, safety, technology, and community outreach. Along with commendations, the team outlines several constructive recommendations for the school to implement as we continue to grow and improve. Accreditation is one of those big things that differentiates CSCS from other educational institutions. If you know someone who is seeking a quality education, please contact Juliebee Roberts / jolly12bee@outlook.com / (520) 432-9186.
